IARU Sustainability Fellowship 2016

IARU is a collaboration between eleven of the world's leading research-intensive universities
*Australian National University, ETH Zurich, National University of Singapore, Peking University
University of California, Berkeley, University of Cambridge, University of Cape Town, University of Copenhagen,
University of Oxford, The University of Tokyo and Yale University*

APPLICATION PERIOD
04 FEB TO 29 FEB

Keen to explore sustainability issues in one of the world's leading research-intensive universities during your mid-year vacation?

Two students will be selected to travel to
The Australian National University or University of Oxford

Exciting opportunities await selected students this mid-year break!

- ✓ Learn best sustainability practices
- ✓ Work on targeted campus sustainability projects at either the Australian National University or University of Oxford for 4-6 weeks
- ✓ A partial stipend of S$2000 given to subsidize travel expenses
- ✓ Free accommodation
- ✓ Internship with NUS Office of Environmental Sustainability

"My stint at the Australian National University was very fulfilling as I got to research on and design green guidelines for the university with the support from a team of welcoming colleagues."

Zheng Zhangxin, 2015 Fellow, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

"The Fellowship gave me an opportunity to experience an overseas internship and to me it was like a 'mini exchange'. Besides understanding the workings of a campus organization and solutions towards sustainability, I was also able to experience a foreign culture and build international networks."

Elaine Sam, 2015 Fellow, Faculty of Science
