About the YEE Programme

Launched in 2005, the YEE programme aims to groom a network of youth to become leaders and change agents in moving their peers and the community towards environment ownership and sustainability. It is specially for youth environmental leaders who are committed to sustainable development in their institutional and personal capacities. Participants receive training to strengthen their environmental knowledge, and interpersonal and project management skills so as to enable them to take on proactive roles as leaders in meaningful projects.
