Celebrate Youth for the Environment Day (YED) by "Talking Gong"!

Join co-organisers NUS SAVE and student groups from different universities in Singapore for an evening of fun and games while learning about ways to reduce the use of disposable plastics when we "Da Bao"!

The poster is for an event called "Talk Gong" Night. It features a dark background with a central white-bordered box containing the event title. Above the title is a drawing of a gongtainer. The text "Bring your Gongtainer to" is written in a cursive font. Below that, "TALK GONG" is written in large, bold, orange letters, followed by "NIGHT" in smaller white letters. A yellow ribbon banner contains the text "WE 'JIO' YOU!" and the event details: "20 March 2015, 6pm - 10pm, NUS UTown, Stephen Riady Centre, Foyer". Below the banner, it says "REDUCE PLASTIC WASTE" and "FILL THE GONG, NOT THE LANDFILL". At the bottom, there is a definition of "gong" and "talk gong", a call to action to find out one's gong personality, and social media handles for Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter. The poster also includes logos for co-organisers and supporters at the bottom.
