

Our Kent Ridge Story || Guided history and nature walk on 22 Jun 2018

13 June 2018 || TO NUS Staff

Sent on behalf of the Campus Active Mobility Unit (a unit of Office of Facilities Management)

Did you know that one of the fiercest battles fought in Singapore during World War II happened at Kent Ridge?

Did you know that the forested areas around Kent Ridge have a rich diversity of animal species including wild boars, birds, snakes and even pangolins?

Our guides from NUS Toddycats! will share these and more interesting tidbits as they bring you on a walk through the heart of Kent Ridge.

Brought to you by the Campus Active Mobility Unit (CAMU) – Enriching experience and enhancing health through walking

To register, please visit this page.

Heritage Walk at Kent Ridge

Come join us for a magical evening walk to discover the historical heritage and rich bio-diversity of Kent Ridge Heritage Trail located right at our own backyard!

Date : 22 June 2018
Time : 5.30pm – 7.30pm

Distance : 2km
Start : Alice Lee Plaza (Next to Lee Kong Chian Natural History Museum)
End : National University Hospital
Free-of-charge

Registration close : By 20 June 2018 (Limited slots only)

Brought to you by:

Office of Facilities Management
University Campus Infrastructure

Supported by:

