

Sustainable Grocery Shopping || On-site Conversations on 08 & 09 Nov

29 October 2018 || TO NUS Staff

Have you wondered what we should do in a supermarket to be environmentally responsible consumers?

What certified palm oil and paper products can be bought in a supermarket?

Are “ugly” fruits and vegetables, i.e. with imperfections, safe to consume?

How do you minimize packaging and disposable containers whilst shopping?

While there may not always be straightforward answers to the questions above, we welcome you to join our on-site conversations to explore how best to shop for groceries while minimizing our environmental footprints.

Click here to register for the session on 08 November 2018, OR

Click here to register for the session on 09 November 2018

Sustainable Grocery Shopping

On-site conversations

Date: 08 November 2018

Time: 5:00 - 6:00pm

OR

Date: 09 November 2018

Time: 4:30 - 5:30pm

Meeting point

Kent Ridge MRT station entrance (next to NUH taxi stand)

*We will walk to our destination near the MRT station.

Join us on a journey to discuss how we can be more sustainable as consumers. Meanwhile, if you wish, you can also do your grocery shopping (i.e. put what we discussed into practice simultaneously).

*Please remember to bring your own reusable shopping bags.