Visit by Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology Graduate University & Nagoya University

On Friday, 27 November 2015, the Office of Safety, Health and Environment (OSHE) at National University of Singapore (NUS) hosted seven delegates from the Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology Graduate University (OIST) and the Nagoya University.

Visitors from Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology Graduate University
1. Dr Toshinori Tanaka, Section Leader, Occupational Health and Safety Section
2. Mr Fumiki Moriyama, Specialist, Occupational Health and Safety Section
3. Mr Atsuo Kai, Senior Manager & Section Leader, Facility Management
4. Mr Atsushi Hakii, Facility Management

Visitors from Nagoya University
1. Professor Shizuaki Murata, Director, Environment, Health & Safety Office
2. Associate Professor Ning Chen, Environment, Health & Safety Office
3. Dr Kentaro Takahama, Technical Staff & Radiation Protection Supervisor, Radiation Safety Office, School of Bioagricultural Sciences

The purpose of the visit is to share and learn each other’s safety & health management system at the respective universities.

The half-day visit included the following:
- Presentation on the Overview of NUS Safety & Health Management System by Dr Lim Cheh Peng,
- Presentation on the Overview of OIST Safety & Health Management System by Dr Toshinori Tanaka
- Presentation on the Overview of Nagoya University Safety & Health Management System by Associate Professor Ning Chen
- Visit to Clinical Imaging Research Centre (cyclotron facility)
- Visit to Department of Anatomy (chemical waste storage & BSL2 laboratory)
Figure 3. Visit by delegates from Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology Graduate University & Nagoya University to the Department of Anatomy

Figure 4. Group photo of delegates from Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology Graduate University & Nagoya University with NUS staff